Bytes

Bytes is a newsletter of stories from different parts, different times, and different people of the World. Look out for interesting, bizarre, odd, and goofy stories!

We worked on a brand that captures the young and conversational approach to Finance.

My Roles and Responsibilites

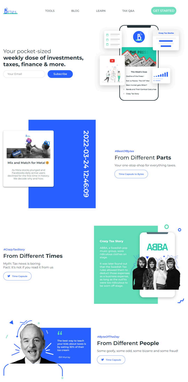
"Bytes is your baby!"
This is what folks at Quicko used to tell me.

I played an integral part in the debelopment of this short and digestible newsletter. I worked with Yatrik, the UX designer, to set up the design language. In fact, at point, I was getting to learn so much about various design processes. We explore numerous brands with unique design languages.

Once we had the process set up and the site was ready to go, I took it up as my sole responsibility to write, work on the designs, fix minor backend and frontend bugs, and so much more.

I also encouraged freshers and young interns at Quicko to work on Bytes to gain some knowledge qabout the financial world.

A Quick Glimpse of the Final Site



A Little Bit of Backstory I'd Like to Share

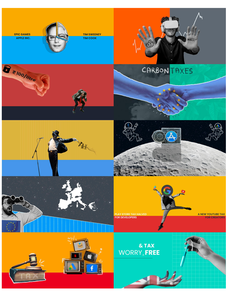
This was a point of my life where I truly knew what I wanted to do - it was design! But I was unsure how to go about it or where to begin. Design is such a vast area. Later, in 2021, I came across a disciple called Human Computer Interaction and it immediately piqued my interest. Since then I've spent countless hours trying to learn about this subject and develop the necessary skills.

Crazy Tax Story - the Bizarre Section

This was an integral part of Bytes to drive user engagement and prove that taxes are not boring. It is one of the most interesting topics to talk about. From its inception to the current scenario, there has been so much banter around taxes.
Happy exploring!

Cover Images of Weekly Bytes

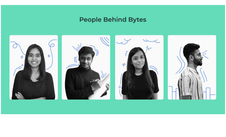
To make things even more interesting, we developed a design language which was unique to Bytes. Here are a few cover images I worked on.



Sample Newsletter

Let's take a look at a sample newsletter. In April 2021, there was so much happening the online food industry. I decided to cover it one newsletter. It was my 2nd last Bytes and one of the most interesting one.

🎁 Food and Tech - A Romantic Affair

Thanks A Ton


I would like to end this by thanking my team mates and also our mentor and the founder of Quicko, Vishvajit. Without them, Bytes wouldn't have been the same. The drive, the motivation, and the inspiration, it was a truly enlightening project. So, Nireka, Anshumi and Yatrik - if you are reading this - thank you for being such an amazing team.
